

Dec. 3rd 1985

Greetings Paul,

I have something of importance to share with you.

Last Saturday night about 3 AM I had an interesting dream which I feel I need to share with you.

In the dream I was attending a Canby High football game with my son Mike. It was intermission time and we were waiting for our team to come out on the field. The team stalled from coming back on the field because their Quarterback was injured. At this point I felt I could help the team if I quarterbacked it. So I went out to the middle of the field to practice throwing the ball. For some reason I couldn't find anyone to throw the ball to.

As I wondered in the middle of the field during the night - suddenly I heard some strange singing on my left side. In a few seconds a white-grey figure appeared singing, with other voices, in Russian "Ozaput". I can't remember some of the other words - but I felt a strong impression that the man in the white-grey figure was singing about a "Light" that will guide the way - on the Journey to Heaven. The figure was swiftly moving toward where our dad was resting.

In the dream I understood that the figure (deceased Peter Sobolev) was coming to "СМЕРЬЮЮЩИЯТЪ" our Dad on his long Journey to a far-away place.

At this point I woke-up -- my immediate thoughts raced to his desires in his life:

He mentioned to me a few times, especially in 1983-84 about a clear river by him. He understood it to mean that he will yet have the privilege to lead a congregation in the old fashion Pentecostal Faith.

But God saw that he has completed his ministry here on earth and that he has accomplished all that he was able to accomplish with his abilities, under the circumstances he found himself.

The work he envisioned still doing was but a review of his past accomplishments - now he was informed by the other side to prepare for a promotion to a more pleasant work on the other side.

2.) My next thoughts raced to the recent events that transpired, especially,
